ABOUT US

The Learning Partnership is a registered Canadian charity that brings together business, educators and strategic partners to design and deliver innovation education programs focused on early learners in schools across Canada.

Our programs build the essential skills and competencies needed in tomorrow's leaders, innovators and problem solvers. They enhance provincial curricula, are aligned with Canada's innovation agenda, and are made available to students, parents and educators through the generous support of our education sector partners and funding from corporate, government, foundation and private donors.

The Learning Partnership is an organization dedicated to inclusive and equitable quality education and lifelong learning opportunities for all (UN Sustainable Development Goal #4).

We stand against anti-Black and anti-Indigenous racism and against all forms of discrimination in North America and around the world.

We consider the lack of representation of Black, Indigenous and people of colour at senior levels of our organization, including on our Board of Directors, a problem and we are committed to addressing it. We welcome applications to our Board of Directors from BIPOC communities.
